Tony Cope

Biographical Note:

Tony Cope was a longtime resident and supporter of the Savannah, Georgia community. Cope began his services to the community as a teacher in the local high school system. To supplement his teaching career he took a job at the local radio station, WTOG-FM, in 1960 as an announcer. During his teaching career, Cope was a baseball coach and school administrator, before becoming director of the Oatland Island Educational Center. There, he worked with animals and children for eighteen years. Cope also served on several boards in the community, including three terms as President of the Savannah Symphony. In the 1990s, Cope began to research and write several books about Savannah and his life including:

On the Swing Shift: Building Liberty Ships in Savannah, Naval Institute Press: Annapolis, Maryland, 2009.

The House on Gaston: A Savannah Childhood, The Abercorn Press: Savannah, Georgia, 2013.

Stealing Stones, The Abercorn Press: Savannah, Georgia, 2015.

It's Not That Lincoln: The Curious History of Savannah Street Names, The Abercorn Press: Savannah, Georgia, 2016.

When Cope retired from the Oatland Island Educational Center he moved to County Cork, Ireland. While in Ireland, Cope has co-written, and starred in three plays including a biographical play about Savannah singer Johnny Mercer called Moon River: A Reflection. Cope currently lives in Ireland with his wife.

Scope & Content:

The Tony Cope World War II Liberty Ships research collection focuses on the collected research files created by Cope for his book, On the Swing Shift (Naval Institute Press: Annapolis, Maryland, 2009.) The research focuses on the Southeastern Shipbuilding Corporation that was based in Savannah in the 1940's, dedicated to building Liberty ships for the World War II effort. The collection includes over 500 photographs, both original and reproductions, negatives, slides, ship research files, and cassette tapes taken and collected by Cope for his book. The Publication Image Files are folders of photographs broken down by subject compiled specifically for Cope's book. The slides are reproductions of most of these publication images. The Ship Research Files are folders of various notes, news clippings, correspondence, and photographs (originals and reproductions) about specific Liberty ships. The audiocassette tapes contain a reproduced recording of a radio program broadcast from WFIL Philadelphia radio station of the launching of the Liberty ship S. S. William L. McLean in 1944. The 51 microcassette tapes are interviews conducted by Cope with shipyard workers, engineers, sailors, and other men and women who had first-hand accounts regarding the Liberty ships.

Items of note in this collection include handwritten personal letters from individuals Cope corresponded with and interviews that provide a unique look into the way of life at the shipyards and on Liberty ships.

System of Arrangement & Ordering:

The Tony Cope World War II Liberty Ships research collection is arranged into research categories created by Tony Cope. The Publication Image Files are arranged alphabetically by subject and the Ship Research Files are arranged numerically by the ship's hull number. The slides and cassette tapes are separated out by format. The slides and full size audiocassettes retain Cope's original order, while the microcassette tapes are arranged alphabetically by the interviewee's last name.

Conditions Governing Access:

Physical access to the collection is available with a scheduled research appointment. Researchers should contact the Municipal Archives 24 to 48 hours before their anticipated visit date. The audiocassette and microcassette tapes are available for playback with the Municipal Archives' equipment. Researchers must bring their own headphones. The tapes are digitized and can be listened to only in the Archives. Access to the original cassette tapes exhibiting severe preservation issues will be made available at the discretion of Municipal Archives staff.

Conditions Governing Reproduction and Use:

Please read carefully the statement on copyright below. Permission to reproduce does not constitute permission to publish. Researchers who plan publication are asked to discuss this with the archivist first for written permission. While most of the Municipal Archives collections are public records and in the public domain, not all are, and the Municipal Archives may not be the owner of copyright for all its archival materials. Researchers are responsible for obtaining any necessary permission to publish from the holder of copyright. In the event that the Municipal Archives becomes a source for publication, a copy of the publication is requested for the Municipal Archives.

NOTICE: WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve a violation of copyright law.
